

Islip, NY – Islip Town Supervisor Phil Nolan is pleased to announce that the Town Board voted unanimously to appoint Alicia O'Connor as the new Town Attorney. O'Connor is the first woman to hold this position in Islip Town.

Following former Town Attorney Bob Quinlan's resignation, the Town Board conducted numerous interviews to determine the best possible candidate for the job. Having served as the Deputy Town Attorney under Quinlan, O'Connor soon became the obvious choice.

"I am confident that Alicia O'Connor is the best person for this job," stated Supervisor Nolan. "Her performance thus far has been exemplary, and her experience will serve her well in this position. The fact that Alicia's appointment was unanimous is a clear indicator that the Town Board has the utmost faith in her abilities to fulfill this new role."

O'Connor, a resident of Brightwaters, has been employed with the Town since 2006, having started as Assistant Town Attorney and later as Deputy Town Attorney. She has been a practicing attorney since 1992, and is involved in a number of community service activities in the Town.

"I am honored to have been appointed Town Attorney, and am excited to work with the other attorneys from this office in our representation of Supervisor Nolan, the Town Board and the rest of the departments in our Town in order to best serve the needs of Islip residents," stated O'Connor.
